Summary

I am a designer, a millennial and a woman. All of these pieces come together to create this human called Tayler. My millennial side makes me driven, passionate, charismatic and always looking to learn/develop myself. My gender has taught me empathy, and compassion for others. When you combine my BFA of Graphic Design from UW—Stout with the rest of me, you discover a design-hungry, people-loving, hard-worker, and curious human—with a dash of spunk.
